* Goths make excellent office workers.

"I think that's an acceptable level of rebellion" is the kind of response you might get from the "How normal am I" t.v. show - a media ~~schizophrenist~~ (s.c.) / psychiatrist. if you had a ^{gothic} child and took him/her to get checked out. Traditionally "the laziest of all youth cults" goths actually make good consumers as well.

"CHWEZEZ" Children of the man bitches. Both "cheesy" & "twice", these types now in their early and mid twenties take on the characteristics their parents "middling intelligence, metro, retro social climbing, the CHWEZEZ will take their rightful place in middle management by the close of the 2000's. see www.chwezeontour.com for examples

Wiggers: Everyone's default setting. Come in a number of sub classes. No distinct ideology other than the ability to hold down a job and buy stuff. Includes the "Novena vests".

Sorry, drawings a bit off this week.

Rockers. A rebellion more overt than the goths. Pretty self-explanatory really and never seems shouldnt be confused with the Novena vests.

Large waste of space!!! In retrospect Dave should have written the "Wiggers" & "Rockers" section lower on the page thereby allowing more room for diagrammatic explanation. What in your genius do about it!!
